

Tennessee Episcopal Cursillo

is a self-sustaining ministry of the Diocese of Tennessee.

Registration fees of candidates and of team members cover the costs of the weekends,

BUT

ministry costs include more than that:

1. We help to sustain the work of the National Episcopal Cursillo Committee, and that gives us voting rights in annual meetings of the national movement.

2. TEC pays for one person to attend the annual NEC Conference, held at various places around the country. He or she votes on behalf of our diocese in all elections and policy decisions of the national Cursillo movement, creates and maintains contact with sister movements around the nation and, indeed, the world, and keeps us informed about how Cursillo movements function elsewhere.

3. We would also like to assist people who are unable financially to attend a Cursillo weekend as a candidate or a team member.

To help in this on-going ministry, please contribute to our work.
